

2020 Club Evening Time Trial Results

After a delay to the season start due to COVID a limited season was achieved, with key trophy events being completed and a Jack Nunn series based on 4 counting events rather than 6. A season report will be written separately.

The events shown below also have any relevant FaceBook posts which accompanied their publication on FB during the shortened season.

Medium Gear and Steel is Real which was the last event of the year - Winner of Medium Gear Neil Lewis. As a diary note really too dark, but we got away with it. The 2 road bikes masquerading as steel didn't quite make the inspection. The event just beat the heavens opening and everyone had a good laugh as Race Secretary realised he had put his flip-flop rear wheel on in the "fixed" position, rather than free wheeling.

S- Steel, MG - Medium Gear, R - Road

After discussion at tonight's time trial we have decided to cancel the time trial on 30 September due to the poor light conditions. This means that next week's time trial will be the Medium Gear event / Steel Is Real. There have been 7 Jack Nunn events so far as the 2-Up was repurposed, not 8 as intended as the first 1 was cancelled due to the delay in restarting the season. Therefore those wishing to compete for Jack Nunn points may, I appreciate that this may give some people a conflict of interest and it will subtly alter the points standing as some riding Medium Gear might normally take Jack Nunn points of others but in these strange times compromise is needed. However, the primary purpose is Medium Gear / Steel is Real.

As we reached the end of the shortened season and with one more event to go things were close at the top of the JN handicap. In theory any of the top 6 could win the Jack Nunn handicap but that would require a lot of no shows for the last ride of the season on 23 September. Also complicated by adding the Medium Gear into next week's event.

The sharp eyed will have noted that tonight was the Sheila Edwards Cup, which also has a handicap medal. As the Racing Secretary was so distracted last week he completely forgot. Therefore there will be a delay in the results while he works out a handicap and sends it to Sue. Sue will then send him tonight's results. Racing Secretary blames old age and the heat.

Nixon and Edwards 50 Mile Time Trial

It was a good turn out for a blustery evening with drizzle on the Dauntsey section of the course making the turn a challenge. Congratulations to Simon for lifting the Nixon Cup.

Mike Edwards Handicap 50 Mile TT Results

After a slight delay to check variations of modelling for the handicap and because the handicapper won here are the results (in my defence I produced my best time since 2014!). Ducking now.
